BRITISH SUCCESS IN EAST AFRICA.

IMPORTANT GERMAN BASE ON LAKE VICTORIA NYANZA ATTACKED.

Some More Fine Work by the Canadians.

SUBMARINE SINKS GLASGOW LINER.

[Reuter's Service to The "Telegraph."]

BRITISH SUCCESS IN EAST AFRICA.

June 28, 2.20 p.m.
The Press Bureau announces a recent expedition against Port Bakoba, on the western shore of Lake Victoria Nyanza—the base of German operations and a point of considerable importance.

The expedition sailed from Kisumu on June 20, commanded by Brigadier General Stewart. The British forces along the River Kagera co-operating, and engaging the enemy's attention, the operations were brilliantly successful. The troops are returning, having destroyed the fort and the wireless installation, and many boats.

The British captured a field-gun, many rifles and some valuable documents, and destroyed two machine-guns by artillery fire.

TALES OF CANADIAN HEROISM.

June 28, 1.20 p.m.
Reuter's correspondent at Headquarters in France describing the work of the Canadians, says that among the points captured was an orchard in the region of Feethubert.

Attacking at twilight, the men, mostly Vancouver men, immediately met a heavy rifle and machine gun fire from three different directions. Despite gaps made in their line, they advanced without wavering until they came to a deep creek full of mud and water and with a thick hedge, in which there were only two openings, on the other side. Cheering, the men waded the creek up to their armpits, reached the hedge and paused. Capt. Morrison shouted "Lads, we must get through." He was about to lead the way when Private Appleton stopped him saying "Excuse me sir, but bombers should go first." So saying Appleton darted through the gap in the hedge, which was so narrow that each man had to follow separately.

When the thinned line resumed its advance, the Germans bolted to their second trench.

In the subsequent fighting at Givenchy on June 15 an officer and private were working a machine gun in a captured trench when the tripod slipped on the parapet. The private, protecting his shoulder with a blanket, supported one of the feet of the tripod on his back, the two other feet resting on the trench wall. Thus they fired over a thousand rounds.

The officer was killed, whereupon the private dismounted the gun from the tripod and brought it back to the lines when the trench was abandoned.

TO-DAY'S LATEST WAR TELEGRAMS

SUBMARINE ATTACKS SMALL CRAFT.

June 28, 1.15 p.m.
A German submarine attacked a number of small craft off Youghal (near Cork) yesterday and sank a schooner, the crew of which was saved.

MORE "HATE"

June 28, 1.15 p.m.
A well-known sportsman and social personage has issued a reply to Count Reventlow's violent articles in the Tageszeitung, declaring that it was not the German people who invented the watchword "Gott strafe England," which merely had a provocative effect on the British. Count Reventlow, in the Tageszeitung, has renewed his attacks on the Government. He declares that those who refuse to hate England must be regarded with feelings of contempt and disgust by true Germans.

GERMAN JUSTICE.

June 28, 1.15 p.m.
Reuter's correspondent at Amsterdam states that the Germans have fined the towns of Roubaix and Valenciennes 150,000 francs each, in reprisal for the French bombardment of Turkish towns.

SUBMARINED IN THE IRISH SEA.

June 28, 4.40 p.m.
A 6,000 ton steamer, the Indrani, which was proceeding to Montreal from Glasgow, has been torpedoed and sunk in the Irish Sea. The crew was saved.

THE RUSSIANS ON THE DNIESTER.

(Havas Telegram.)

June 28.
Petrograd:—On the Vistula front we repulsed a triple attempt of the enemy, inflicting very heavy losses on the Austro-Germans. We threw back beyond the Dniester the last platoon of Germans, who had crossed the river in Kotary region; we took 700 prisoners.

June 27.
Rome:—We occupied the summit of Zillenkofel, progressing on both banks of the Isonzo.

EARLIER TELEGRAMS.

A COMPLACENT GERMAN PRESS.

June 27, 7.30 a.m.
Reuter's correspondent at Amsterdam states that undeterred by the suppression of the Tageszeitung, and perhaps encouraged by its re-appearance, the Kruis Zeitung vehemently insists that Germany shall continue the present submarine warfare, and angrily denounces those who are talking of the danger of conflict with America, and indignantly rejects the suggestion that Germany should agree to American demands, provided the United States induces Great Britain to raise "the so-called blockade."

The Dolmets Gazette, in a long official defence of the employment of poison gas, says that the basic idea of the Hague agreement was to prevent unnecessary killing, and consequently the use of smoke clouds moving gently towards the enemy is not only permissible under international law but is an extraordinarily mild form of war compared with flooding. It therefore concludes that the enemy is jealous of German science.

An official statement as to the suspension of the Vorwarts asserts that the Socialist peace manifesto is highly regrettable, and may be interpreted abroad as war weariness.

INVALID PRISONERS EXCHANGED.

June 27, 7.50 a.m.
It is announced that 430 invalided British prisoners are coming over to England from Germany in exchange for 210 Germans.

WAR TELEGRAMS.

DIRTY FIGHTING ON THE MEUSE.

June 28, 3.20 a.m.
The French evening communique says:—Fighting along the Central and Northern fronts is confined to cannonading.

Isolated action in Argonne have not affected the respective positions.

The Germans, in the fighting on the heights of the Meuse on Saturday, used burning liquids, and re-captured trenches under cover of clouds of smoke. They were soon driven out, however, with heavy losses.

ITALIAN COMMUNIQUE.

INEFFECTIVE AUSTRIAN LIE.

June 28, 3.20 a.m.
An Italian communique says:—Nothing important has occurred within the last 24 hours. The artillery duel is increasing in intensity.

The Austrians along the Isonzo front are using asphyxiating bombs.

The enemy's latest expedient is to spread a report among the Italian troops that a devastating earthquake has occurred at Calabria, but the report, which is baseless, failed to take effect.

BULGARIA PREPARING FOR WAR.

June 28, 6.05 a.m.
The attitude of Bulgaria is suddenly attracting attention owing to the reports, mostly from Italian sources, that the Reservists have been recalled and of the feverish activity of political leaders, pointing to preparations for immediate intervention in the war, but there is nothing to indicate on which side she will intervene.

AUSTRO-GERMAN MINISTERS CONFER.

June 28, 6.05 a.m.
The Frankfurter Zeitung says that the Imperial Chancellor and Herr von Jagow have gone to Vienna to discuss means of effectively combatting the great efforts of the Triple Entente in the Balkans.

TURKS TREAT PRISONERS WELL.

June 28, 6.05 a.m.
The American Ambassador reports that the 65 British prisoners in the hands of the Turks are well treated, and are in good health.

CONQUEST OF ALBANIA.

June 28, 6.05 a.m.
The Rome correspondent of the Morning Post says that the Montenegrins have occupied Singiovanni Medua, and that the Albanians have recognised King Nicholas of Montenegro as their Sovereign.

AUSTRO-ITALIAN TRENCH WAR.

June 27, 7.50 a.m.
Reuter's correspondent at Rome states that owing to the arrival of large Austrian reinforcements, operations in districts like Malborghetto, Lavarone, and Tolmino are now beginning to resemble trench warfare in France.

FRANCE AND THE SHIRKERS.

June 27, 7.50 a.m.
A Paris report states that the Shirkers' Bill, mentioned on the 25th, has been passed.

NEWS FOR BUSY MEN.

CONDENSED.

A German submarine sank a schooner off the south of Ireland yesterday.

Stirring tales of the heroism of some of the Canadian contingent are given in to-day's telegrams.

The s.s. Indrani, a 6,000 ton steamer on a journey from Glasgow to Montreal has been torpedoed and sunk in the Irish Sea.

Count Reventlow has renewed his attacks on England in the Tageszeitung, in spite of protests from a well-known social personage in Germany.

The Germans have levied a fine of 150,000 francs each on Roubaix and Valenciennes in reprisal for the bombardment of Turkish towns.

The British have scored an important success against the Germans on the shore of Lake Victoria Nyanza. Their captures include some important documents.

WAR ITEMS.

Sir E. Grey's Eyesight Trouble.

Sir Edward Grey (says "Wayfarer" in the Nation) has suffered from an affection of the eyes which may render it advisable for him to have a quite temporary rest from reading and writing, as a means to a complete cure. There is no question of his general health or of his ability to resume his work as soon as the local trouble has subsided. During his absence from the Foreign Office the Prime Minister will probably take general charge of it.

A Tip to Luxurious Travellers.

The railway companies have issued a special appeal to the travelling public to limit the quantity of luggage conveyed by train as much as possible. This step (the Times states) has been taken owing to the enlistment of many thousands of railwaymen and the consequent decrease of staff. It has already been suggested that the travelling public should reduce their luggage to such dimensions as they can personally carry. In this way it should be possible to assist the railways to release more men for the fighting line.

Trading with the Enemy.
The fact that the British Government has at last prohibited trading with enemy subjects in China, Siam, Persia and Morocco will be hailed with considerable satisfaction by all except a few unscrupulous and unpatriotic manufacturers. There was a small but influential coterie in Manchester who were openly accused of sympathy with enemy subjects in this part of the world.
These men, in spite of the fact that they prospered in England and accumulated wealth with the aid of British workers, and in spite of the agitation which grew with such force as to compel the Government to act, continued to place their German agents in China in a position to supply
British manufactures to the Chinese, but in some cases under a German label. It has been asserted that Germans with large interests in China practically ran the Manchester Chamber of Commerce, but during the past few months the reading public has been furnished with proof that the institution controlling the trade of such an important city is no hunting ground for aliens, and if it were there is sufficient driving force in British public opinion to insure energetic action by the Government to preserve national interests.

Daily Press.

The War Situation.
A "Pyrrhic victory" is a victory won at such a cost as to amount practically to a defeat.
That, it seems to us, fitly describes the Austro-German victory against the Russians in Galicia.
The German Headquarters evidently feared as much, for we were told in a telegram last week that while the German people were being encouraged to expect "great things" in Galicia, they were cautioned against excessive optimism, and reminded that Russia is a dangerous enemy "because she has human material that can only with difficulty be exhausted." Later telegrams regarding the operations in Galicia have shown how necessary was both the caution and the reminder. The Russian retreat has been no rout. The progress of the enormous enemy forces thrown against the Russians in Galicia has been stubbornly contested at chosen points and we are told from Petrograd that during the seven weeks of the retreat the Russians have captured 130,000 men, 300 machine-guns, and fifty big guns.
How many of the enemy they have slain we have yet to learn, but the statisticians who, from time to time, indulge in calculating the casualties of the war usually estimate the killed and wounded as being from five to seven times the number of the prisoners taken.

THE ATTACK ON BRITISH LADIES.

Inquiries From Peking.

Peking, June 19.
It is understood that the Ministry of Foreign Affairs in view of British representations, telegraphed to Nanking asking General Feng Kuo-chang, Military Governor of Kiangsu, to give details of the "attack on the British ladies."
General Feng Kuo-chang replied that the ladies were attacked and slightly injured by a Chinese soldier in the dusk, and it is very hard for the authorities to discover the offender quickly, but all the civil and military authorities have been strictly ordered to assist in the apprehension of the culprit and prevent a repetition of the incident. General Feng expressed his regret and apology to the British Consul at Nanking.

About fifty dustmen employed by the Paddington Borough Council stopped work owing to the council not having acceded to their request to give them a war bonus to meet the increased cost of living.

Long Distance Telephoning.

Telephonic communication was recently established between New York and San Francisco (says an American Consular report), and with more improvements on the line it is hoped this may be accomplished between Vancouver and the Atlantic coast.

Lincolnshire Politician Dead.

The death is announced of Mr. George Henry Parkin, who unsuccessfully contested the Stamford Division of Lincolnshire as a Liberal at two elections. He was a member of the Eighty Club and chairman of the Young Liberals' League.

Lord Parker on the Woolsock.
Lord Parker, as the senior Law Lord in the House of Lords, occupied the Woolsock during the hearing of an appeal case. This is the first occasion upon which Lord Parker has presided over the deliberations of their Lordships. The other peers present were Lords Sumner, Parmoor, and Wrenbury.

The National Relief Fund.
The sum of £2,105,000 has been allocated for distribution for relief out of the Prince of Wales's Fund. Among the latest grants made is one of £10,000 to the Convalescent Auxiliary Hospital, established for the treatment of soldiers and sailors who have lost their limbs. The fund rose during the week-end from £5,000 to £5,119,000.

Canadian Emigration Season Opens.

About 1,500 immigrants were landed at Montreal during the second and third weeks in April. The majority arrived from Great Britain. Many of them went to Canada to take the places of the young men who own land and have gone to the front. The new arrivals were nearly all people of mature years, or girls, scarcely any young men being among them.

The Brides' Murder Trial.

The case of George Joseph Smith, who is indicted for the murder of three of the six women whom he is alleged to have married, and has been committed for trial at the Old Bailey and the Maidstone and Lewes Assizes, was mentioned to a Divisional Court, which granted the application of the Crown for an order removing all the indictments to the Central Criminal Court.

The Labour Market.

During the four months ended April 30, 1915, the total number of workpeople whose rates of wages were reported as having been changed, says the Board of Trade Labour Gazette, was 882,740, and the net effect of the changes an increase of £133,537 per week. In the corresponding period of 1914, 342,046 work people sustained a net decrease of £6,120 per week.

Well-known Business Man Dead.

The death has occurred at Coseley Hall, South Staffs, of Richard Clayton, managing director of the Cannon Iron Foundry (Ltd.), Bilston, an alderman of Staffordshire County Council and County Justice of the Peace, and the first chairman of the Coseley District Council, aged sixty-nine years. He was a prominent Conservative in South Wolverhampton and Kingswinford Division, more than once was mentioned as a likely candidate for Parliamentary honours.

Something Like a Record.

London, May 18.

Run Down by a Train.
George Ducombe, a private of the Middlesex Regiment, employed on railway guard duty, was yesterday knocked down and killed by the engine of a goods train at Norwood Junction.

The Latest Zeppelin.
The latest Zeppelin to be completed at Friedrichshafen, making the twelfth since the war began, has successfully made its first short trial trip. It is designed and built to carry one ton of explosives, and is engine to travel faster than any previously built Zeppelin. With the last five aircraft of this class, it is meant (the Daily Chronicle states) to take part in the grand raid on London.

Joffre and French Satisfied.
A "Club Member," writing in the Liverpool Post says:—In a letter, which I have been shown from a staff officer, dated last Friday, is the sentence, "French and Joffre are more than satisfied so far." Now is the time for our great effort, because Germany is unquestionably "playing in the centre of the stage in the blaze of the footlights," specially to influence Italy and other neutrals.

King George and V. C. Hero.
Colonel-Sergeant Harry Daniels, of the 2nd Battalion Rifle Brigade, was at Buckingham Palace received by the King, who decorated him with the Victoria Cross, awarded to him for most conspicuous bravery on March 12 at Neuve Chapelle. The King, after pinning the cross to Daniels' tunic, shook him by the hand and congratulated him.

More Footballers Enlist.
George Halley, the well-known half-back of the Burnley football team, has enlisted in the Royal Engineers, and leaves for Chatham tomorrow. Halley, who joined Burnley from Bradford, played in the Anglo-Scots team last year. Mr. William Bailey, chairman of the Lowerhouse Cricket Club, in the Lancashire Cricket League, has enlisted in the County Palatine Artillery.

Congratulations for Both.
A Capetown message states that among the senders of congratulatory telegrams to General Botha, in connection with the capture of Windhoek, are Viscount Gladstone, Lord Selborne, and Sir Owen Phillips. The Lord Mayor of Manchester has also forwarded a telegram of congratulation to General Botha, who is a Freeman of the city.

Men Servants of Military Age.
Colonel Dalrymple White has a suggestion to the Chancellor of the Exchequer, in a question he will put next week, that where men of military age are retained as domestics, gardeners, and chauffeurs, the duties of men-servants payable by the employer shall be largely increased unless a certificate be obtained from an officer of the Royal Army Medical Corps that the servant in question is physically unfit to join the colours.

International Footballer Wounded.

Sergeant J. E. Robinson, the Rochdale Hornets' wing three-quarter, who was a member of the Northern Union team which toured Australia last summer, has been wounded in action, and has been sent to the base hospital in France. It is believed that his injury is not very serious. Tom Taylor, the Hornets' "A" team half-back, has enlisted in the Royal Flying Corps. He is the twenty-third Hornets' player to join the colours.

Lady French's Welcome.
Lady French, wife of Sir John French, attended a reception at the Wood Green Empire yesterday in aid of the local hospital. She was attended by Colonel E. F. Bowell and several other officers, and was enthusiastically welcomed by a large crowd. The guard of honour was provided by the 7th Middlesex Territorials, and the circle of the theatre was reserved for wounded soldiers. These included Sergeant Daniels, V.O., of the London Rifle Brigade, who was loudly cheered.

"Frightfulness," that Failed.
Germany (says the Nation) has lost her cool and is morally isolated her people to an extent that makes it difficult for us to realise how it is possible to negotiate a peace with her. What has her policy of frightfulness accomplished in the way of material gain? Her brutalisation of Belgium has created a moral and material difficulty from whose coils the contortions of her travellers in intrigue, like Herr Draburg, will never release her. The sinking of the Lusitania turns America into an avowed or virtual associate of the Allies. But a not less important effect is the immense stimulation it has administered to the spirit of her adversaries.

More Expulsions from "Orders."
It is understood that the King proposes to follow up his dismissal of the enemy Knights of the Garter by a similar measure with regard to those now bearing arms against us who are members of other British Orders. There are (the Birmingham Post London correspondent points out) a considerable number of these. Among the Knights Grand Cross of the Bath, for example, are not fewer than eleven enemies, while a twelfth, in the person of Prince Albert of Schleswig-Holstein, the only surviving son of Prince and Princess Christian, who has been fighting against us since the beginning of the war, is an "extra" Knight Grand Cross of the Bath.

Always "More Ammunition."
"Ammunition!" writes an officer from the front, in a letter, "Ammunition! For God's sake, tell everybody you see that we want to be sure of sufficient ammunition. We blaze away, and in our hearts we have the sickening fear that our ammunition may fall short, and then we shall be in a hell of a mess. Oh, if we only knew that we had ample! Here we firmly believe that if we can hold on for the next three weeks, we shall break the back of the Germans. The process of attrition of theirs is going on furiously. Only give us ammunition and we will do the trick. My first word and my last word is all at home is Ammunition." (Sunday Chronicle).

BRITISH AID FOR FRANCE. UNCLAIMED TELEGRAMS.

Loan of Sixty Millions Sterling for Our Allies.

Eastern Extension Australasia & China Telegraph Co.

Paris, May 15.

In the Senate, to-day, concerning the Bill for the Extension of the Limit of Issue of Treasury Bonds, M. Ribot, Minister of Finance, expressed confidence in the willingness of the country to continue further in the necessary financial effort, and declared that France would go on to the end. He indicated that it would be necessary to make an appeal to foreign industry and to pay for certain elements needed for national defence more highly than before the war. They had not sufficient American securities which could be negotiated in New York, and the United States were not disposed to open credits to them nor to lend.

They had thought of addressing England where exchange with the United States was more readily maintained than in France. He understood that the Chancellor of the Exchequer was willing to open with the French Government a credit of 1,500 million francs (sixty million sterling) for payments in the United States, Canada, and England. In exchange the Bank of France would send a maximum of 500 million francs (twenty million sterling) in gold to England.

The double operation inspired a spirit of financial solidarity between the two countries. The operation was favourable to France.

He thanked the British Government for lending aid readily to enable them to avoid the difficult path which preoccupied their minds.

With the prolongation of the war the financial difficulties increased, but did not alarm them. The unanimous opinion of the world was with them and against the authors of the abominable crimes committed in the name of State necessities.

News reached Knutsford yesterday that Captain Gordon Merriman, Royal Field Artillery, ammunition column, had been killed in action in France. Captain Merriman was the son of Mr. Frank Merriman, of Knutsford and Booth-street, Manchester, and not long ago came home on seventy-two hours' leave. His brother Cland is Lieutenant on H.M.S. Lurcher, and another brother, Mr. Boyd Merriman, a well-known barrister, on the Northern Circuit, is a captain with the 5th Manchester City Battalion.

The Minister was unanimously cheered. The Senate then adopted the Bill.—Central News

HONGKONG, TUESDAY, JUNE 29, 1915.

CHINESE AFFAIRS IN HONGKONG.

The Secretariat for Chinese affairs in Hongkong is a Government Department which devotes itself to much useful work and which rarely provokes much unfavourable criticism. Its latest report, excerpts from which we published on Saturday, constitutes a record on which it may honestly be congratulated and, more than this, shows the same disposition noticeable in other Government departments of late, to go forward. The hospital and Po Leung Kuk reports are excellent, and the continued success achieved by the last-named institution is not only creditable to the Secretariat but is another feather in the cap of Chinese charity.

Since the abolition of contract labour at the Straits and in other Malay-speaking countries, Hongkong has had less and less to do with male emigration, and the Department is left more free to devote itself to other matters. 1914 was, happily, but little concerned with boycotts and strikes. Two minor strikes are mentioned in the S.O.A.'s report—one of dock carpenters at Hanghom and one of caulkers at Taikoo; but these seem to have been quickly dealt with. It is interesting to notice that there were three applications from Chinese for naturalisation, and that thirteen persons applied for British Subject certificates. We have said, a good many times, that it is more than time that definite distinction was made between British and non-British subjects among the Chinese here. Wherever our flag flies there is always room for foreigners who wish to work or to trade or to dwell peacefully as private citizens, and the British Government does not go out of its way to ask these to enrol themselves as subjects to itself. If, with a worthy motive, they care to do so, no obstacle is thrown in their way, provided their period of domicile is sufficient. The greater the number of respectable Chinese that so enrol, the better it is for the Empire—but the sooner some of those who are not enrolled bask themselves to their own country, the better it will be for Hongkong. From the manifestly law-abiding character of the younger Chinese born in this Colony, it is evident that British citizenship is no bad thing for the race. The British Born Subjects among the Singapore and Hongkong Chinese have shown themselves loyal to the throne, and we are as proud of them as they are of their citizenship.

It is with subjects of the Chinese Government, however, that the Secretariat's time is mostly taken up, and the business is not one that many of our readers are likely to wish to rob it of. It has to deal with the troubles and sins and wants of, roughly, four hundred thousand people, many of them here to-day and gone to-morrow, and none of them British subjects. The work, as far as the Chinese are concerned, is done well, and they have nothing to complain of. It is from the European that complaints may justly come—on the ground that the Secretariat and other Government Departments allow the bridle to hang too loosely. If we allude especially to the control of the piers it is because the Report devotes a particular clause to that subject. For years past, the Telegraph has been complaining of the manner in which Chinese of all classes, but notably the coolie element, have consistently ignored the regulations posted up on Blake Pier; yet it is not until now that "steps have been taken for the better control of all the piers in the Colony." "The better control!" The Government admits, then, that the control in the past has not been all it could have been. The pier instance is sufficient to show the sort of careless spirit that has prevailed. If necessary we could quote a hundred other cases, in point which go to show that the various Government departments—not excluding the Secretariat—have been more ready to consider the convenience of the Chinese than the comfort of the Britisher. This old bad system of slackness has tired Europeans, has evoked numberless protests and has, at last, appealed to the Government mind as not being "all it should be." Consequently, we look for better things in the near future.

The Shanghai Forgery Case.

Those who have read the details of the Shanghai forgery case which has been appearing in our columns, and the end of which we give to-day, will feel that Sir Haviland de Saumarez, in imposing a sentence of six months with hard labour, has been extremely considerate and lenient. The case made out by the defending counsel might have suited a youth of one or two and twenty, but the man charged is twenty-seven and had apparently had some considerable amount of office experience before leaving Home. If anyone deserves our sympathy it is surely the learned judge himself, in being obliged to brand a fellow-countryman as a criminal and so to "let down" the British race in the eyes of the Chinese. To our way of thinking, the matter is all the graver in that it has happened at a time when the Mother Country is at war. Men out here are sheltered from the privations and inconveniences which their brethren in Britain are perforce undergoing. While young men at Home are either enlisting or else are practising self-denial in order that they may assist the Empire, in some other way, those in the East are asked, at most, to contribute to the various benevolent funds, to use a reasonable amount of self-restraint, where possible, to join some volunteer corps. Yet the prisoner in this case thought the present time quite a suitable one for committing ridiculous extravagances and for running up debts which he could never hope to meet—by honest means.

The Young Man in the East.

For a man of seven-and-twenty who does these things, we must own our inability to work up much sympathy. The man who comes East after he has reached the age of twenty-five should have learned at least some amount of wisdom, and should have some notion of guarding himself against extravagance. If we had our way, no one under that age should ever be allowed to come to the Far East at all, and not even at that age unless he could show that he had some amount of experience of real life before leaving Home. The curse of Hongkong and Shanghai is the small-minded snobbery that encourages youngsters to live beyond their means. The majority of our young men come from modest surroundings and have been in the habit of living on a small salary, by the side of which their Hongkong pay seems a millionaire's wealth. The pendulum swings, and lands them in the morass of extravagance, and they are lucky if they ever succeed in extricating themselves therefrom.

Whose is the Fault?

Of course we all know that a life of strict economy here is next to an impossibility. Everyone is saddled, by circumstances which he can scarcely hope to control, with expenses and obligations without incurring which he might live at Home for fifty years. But the existence of these necessary outlets for money should surely put the young man on his guard against others which are not necessary. We are not for blaming him, entirely, however. Neither society nor the Government helps to make the path any easier for him. Many a hopeful lad from Home has fallen into bad habits solely because he has so few means of "getting in with" family life. The two-penny-halfpenny "pride of the oobler's dog," with which so many people here fence themselves in, naturally chills him, and, finding that he is not wanted, he not unnaturally drifts towards company where he, or anyone else will always be welcome—so long as he has money or credit. Death or disgrace or rain have been the portion of many a perfectly well-intentioned young fellow who has come to the East full of hopes and ambitions; and this will continue to be the case until the social life here is shaken up and re-organised by those brave enough and strong enough to do it.

NOTES ON THE CRISIS.

GERMAN "SCIENCE."

Affairs in Africa.

News from Africa is scarce, but always good when it does come along. From the latest wire, it is evident that General Stewart's men are just as determined on subduing the Germans in the East as those under Sir Louis Botha are bent on crushing them in the south-west. The victory at Bukoba is not a small thing, for it announces to the Germans that there is yet one more side on which their East African territory can be successfully assailed. The other news item from Africa is one that has been long expected: the suggestion that the Union should send an overseas force to Europe. That this should have come—at any rate in great measure—from the Dutch element, is particularly pleasing, and should effectively silence silly German slanders.

German Hate and German Science.

The old women of the German newspaper world seem to be busy just now writing up columns of "hate," all of which put together will not help their army to win its battles. At one time the German press was a power in Europe, and British journalists took off their hats to it. To-day it has degenerated into a vehicle for childish spite or—as in the case of the Cologne Gazette and its defence of the gases—into an organ of typical Lutheran hypocrisy, which is ten degrees worse than British puritanism at its very worst. Only people sprung from a race of humbugs could dream of such a statement as that to the effect that the poisonous gases are "an extraordinarily mild form of war." The conclusion: "The enemy is probably the nearest that our faith-worshipping friends can get to a joke. German science and 'extraordinarily mild forms of war' seem to have been well to the fore, by the way, on the heights of the Meuse last Saturday when burning liquids were squirted on the French.

Bulgaria's Preparations.

Bulgaria's affairs are arousing general curiosity, as the Italians tell us. One would need to be well versed in probably the most difficult subject on earth—Balkan diplomacy—to understand the meaning of all the talk and all the preparations in Rumania and Bulgaria during the past few months. On the face of it, it would appear that Bulgaria has nothing to gain and everything to lose by joining the side on which Turkey finds herself. German lies and impossible promises will go a long way, but the men who are ruling Bulgaria and Rumania are less simple than those in whose hands Turkish destinies lay before the Porte took a hand in the war. Nor has either of these two Balkan countries been broken in and prepared to serve the Kaiser by a long system of tyranny such as that exercised all these years by Germany over Turkey. Both have fine armies, Bulgaria more especially, but neither has much money; both, too, have, in the past, shown themselves very suspicious of Russia. Nor, again, is either likely to be swayed by sentiment. It would be as idle for the Entente to preach Germany's persecution of Belgium to them as for the Kaiser to urge his all-fatherhood. Looking at Bulgaria more especially must do, to the position with a severely practical eye and in a "What am I going to get out of it?" sense, where the Entente can put down hard cash for the sake of an ally, Germany can deposit nothing but promises which, as everyone must now know, can never be fulfilled. It may be doubted, too, if our prime enemy, at heart, really wants a new ally. She knows how the war is going to end, and, though the entry of another country in her behalf might "back up" the troops and the civil population temporarily, it would bring no comfort and no hope to official Germany.

THE SHANGHAI FORGERY CASE.

Accused gets Six Months' Hard Labour.

The trial of Harold L. Blair, an employee of Messrs. Butterfield and Swire, on a charge of forgery, took place in H.M. Supreme Court this morning before Sir Haviland de Saumarez (Judge). Mr. H. P. Wilkinson (Crown Advocate) prosecuted, and Mr. E. W. Godfrey appeared for the defence. There were two charges of forgery and two of uttering, viz.

For that he, on or about 31st May, 1915, feloniously did forge a certain compradore order for $792.25 drawn by Messrs. Butterfield and Swire and purporting to be payable to Capt. R. H. Lloyd with intent to defraud; also with uttering same with intent to defraud, and further with forging and uttering a compradore order, purporting to be signed by Capt. R. J. Osin, for $1,857.08.

Accused pleaded guilty.
Mr. Godfrey said the fact that the accused had committed acts of great seriousness could not be denied, and there could be no question that it must be a matter of regret to him for the rest of his life. He was a young man of 27, and had been 16 a year, coming out to join Messrs. Butterfield and Swire. At home he bore an irreproachable character, and he came here with excellent references. It would be said, no doubt, that he had arrived at an age when he should be able to distinguish between right and wrong, but there was a great deal to be said for a young man coming out to the East alone and away from those influences which at home were such protection. In the circumstances he asked his Lordship to consider accused's age, his antecedents, and the general surroundings and the circumstances under which he gave way to temptation.

His Lordship—I don't know what they are.

Mr. Godfrey—I refer to what I have said—his coming out here, and that he was apparently not strong enough to resist temptation. I ask your Lordship to consider whether, under the circumstances, it is not possible to apply the Probation of Offenders' Act. He has suffered certain imprisonment already, and must suffer, as I say, for the rest of his life. If that were done his life would certainly, in the near future, not be wasted, because he is very anxious to enlist in the Forces. I know that arrangements could be made in a very short time.

Mr. Wilkinson said he felt he could not say anything in the circumstances. He left the matter to his Lordship.

His Lordship—I hardly feel that I know enough about this case at present to be able to deal with it otherwise than as an ordinary case. I must have everything put before me.

Mr. Godfrey—There is a gentleman here from Messrs. Butterfield and Swire—Mr. Greaves.

His Lordship—All I have on the "depositions" is: Here is a serious crime of which we are not unfamiliar here in Shanghai—a man taking advantage of his facilities to defraud. That is all there is in the depositions, and if you wish me to consider the special circumstances of the case the special circumstances must be put before the court.

Mr. Godfrey—I refer to his previous character and age.

His Lordship—I don't think age is anything at all. He is quite old enough to know better.

Mr. Greaves said that accused was one of many young men which the firm had brought out to the East, and it was impossible to overlook the great temptation here for a young man like that who was suddenly removed from all his friends and advisers at home and came amongst utter strangers. They must all be alive to that unless a man had a very strong character. Accused had given the firm certain information which had assisted them very much in tracing the deficiency, and he thought what he told them was entirely the truth. He had also made certain restitution—nearly $1,000.

REFRACTORY COOLIES.

Smashed the Foreman's Head.

Coolies are not at all times anxious to obey orders even from their own countrymen, and three of them engaged in carrying sand on May Road, were alleged, at the Police Court, this morning, to have assaulted a weighman who had called upon one of them to weigh his sand. The complainant's head was badly damaged with a piece of wood.

The defendants were bound over in the sum of $100 each to keep the peace, his Worship pointing out that if he had any more trouble with the complainant they would be sent to goal.

His Lordship—That is substantially what the charge amounts to, but I can hardly think that that is the whole story. If I must deal with the case in any exceptional way I ought to be taken into the confidence of everyone and if I am not I can only take the case just as an ordinary case.

Mr. Greaves.—On behalf of accused's employers, I ask you to deal with him as leniently as possible.

His Lordship.—What is the cause of this extravagance.

Mr. Greaves.—From what we know he was living beyond his means.

His Lordship.—Living beyond his means is no excuse whatever. I don't know whether there are any other matters that could be brought to my attention if I postponed sentence till to-morrow, but unless there are I must proceed on the information I have, and there is no very much to take it out of the ordinary case. There is no explanation whatever given to support what temptation there was, how he was influenced, or what led to this.

Mr. Godfrey.—The temptation was that he was in difficulties through having fallen into a certain way of living, as some young men do in Shanghai.

His Lordship.—In what certain way? I cannot understand this squandering in a court of justice.

Mr. Godfrey.—There is no squandering about it. He has simply led this life, and that is all you can say about it.

His Lordship.—Then there is no excuse whatever.

In passing sentences his Lordship said—Harold Blair.—It is a very painful duty which falls sometimes to the lot of a Judge in a country like this to have to pass sentence on one of his own fellow-countrymen—a young man who has come out with prospects and who has not had sufficient self-restraint to avoid the temptations which are perhaps somewhat too easily within his reach in such a city as this. But ready as I am and anxious as I am always to weigh anything that can be urged in the favour of anyone who is in the position in which you now stand, I must look to the general interests of the community; and it would never do, where there has been so serious a crime as this committed, to pass it over or even to deal with it so lightly as has been suggested that I might do in this case. It is quite impossible for one man to go free without it being a temptation to others, inasmuch as the fear of punishment is removed from them to do the same sort of thing. The one thing that has been said in your favour is that when once the end was put to this course of extravagance and vice—when I say vice I am referring to the defrauding of your employers—you appear to have given them all the information you could, and you have refunded such money as you had in order to minimize their loss. It is quite impossible for me to take the course indicated by Mr. Godfrey, and I was in doubt whether I ought not to pass upon you the sentence which is always passed in similar cases, but I feel justified in reducing it to a certain extent. I must order you to be imprisoned and kept to hard labour for a term of six months.

—Shanghai Mercury.

SHANGHAI ROWING CLUB.

German and Austrian Members.

A special general meeting of members of the Shanghai Rowing Club was held at the club house last week for the purpose of considering the following resolution: That in the best interest of the Club, members of German nationality be asked not to use the Club premises until further notice. About fifty members were present. Mr. D. C. Hutchinson, president, supported by Messrs R. Bouncken, C. B. Barwald, J. B. Chevalier, F. R. Newman, S. Berry, and E. Stassen (secretary).

The chairman informed the meeting that a petition, in the form of the resolution quoted above, had been sent in by over forty members to the Committee with a request that it should be dealt with by them. The Committee did not feel able to decide the question, and therefore that meeting had been called.

The Secretary read the petition, and the chairman declared the same open to discussion.

Mr. S. G. Berry proposed the resolution. It was not put forward in any aggressive manner at all, he said, but simply as a preventive measure. Feeling was running pretty high, and the time might come when trouble might be caused, and trouble they did not want (hear, hear). In the circumstances, he thought it would be only right that the minority should give way to the majority (applause).

Mr. Chevalier said he had been a member of the Club and of its committees for three years, and he had been happy to work with the German members and committees, none of whom were held in greater respect as sportsmen and oarsmen than Mr. Barwald and Mr. Bouncken. The utmost had been done to keep the war outside the walls of the Club, but in spite of all their best efforts, it had intruded. He had been asked to read, and he did so with regret, the following statements on behalf of the German and Austrian members of the Club:

"We, the undersigned German members of the Shanghai Rowing Club have learned with regret that a movement is on foot amongst the members of the S.R.C. to exclude the German members of the S.R.C. from the use of the club premises until further notice. It is our opinion that no self-respecting member of any club can submit himself to such a decision and we hereby declare that, if the resolution, which is to be submitted to the special general meeting on the 17th instant, should be passed, we the undersigned resident German members shall consider ourselves as being expelled from the club; protesting against violation of the club rules and reserving all our rights."

"Should the above mentioned resolution be passed, we request that all absent German members be excluded from the members' list and we shall ask two Honorary German members: Messrs M. Hymann, Hamburg, and F. Hinkel, Bremen, to send in their resignations."

Shanghai, June 15.
Signed: Otto Hauer, Holz, Ludwig Peter, J. Merscher, E. Neumann, L. Moeller, W. O. Moebius, E. Otto.

Mr. A. Hide seconded the resolution. Much as members regretted the circumstances which had arisen, he thought the petition submitted to the committee a very right and proper one, and he was sorry the committee did not deal with it in the right way considering the signatures that it bore. He did not want to question the wisdom of the committee, however. He had had considerable experience of the club; and with the possibility of regattas coming on and men training together, he knew perfectly well how, towards the end of training, men's tempers were apt to stretch, and how from very small beginnings serious trouble might arise. That, in his opinion, was what they wanted to prevent, and what should be prevented at all costs.

Without further discussion, the resolution was put to the vote, and it was carried, forty-two members voting in favour, and three against. — N. China Daily News.

"In this event, we also request that the name of Mr. B. Molander, who is absent, be excluded from the member's list."

THE LATE CAPT. T. L. SHELFORD R.N.

There are many all along the China Station who will be deeply grieved to learn that the fears regarding the chances of that officer's surviving in the disaster to H.M.S. "Goliath" in the Dardanelles, by a hostile torpedo, have been unfortunately confirmed by the latest news.

The Hon'ble Mr. O. W. Darbishire of Messrs Paterson, Simons, & Co., has had by this mail a letter from Mr. W. H. Shelford, the head of the firm in London, to say that his brother Capt. Shelford went down with his ship the "Goliath," says the Singapore Free Press of June 19. He naturally feels the loss of his brother very acutely and all his old friends will deeply sympathise with him.

On the cricket and football fields T. L. Shelford was invariably affectionately known as "Tommy." Though a thorough disciplinarian and in all respects a typical naval officer, there was a freshness and a spontaneity about our late friend that endeared him to all who had the privilege of his comradeship in the field of sport. He died as he would, doing his duty by his ship in the stress of active service. And his memory will long be cherished in the Far East and in the Service. He was born in Singapore; and Singapore may well be proud of so distinguished and gallant a son.

A mail paper says:— Captain Thomas L. Shelford, who was in command of the "Goliath" when she was sunk in the Dardanelles on 12th inst, was well known on the China Station. Captain Shelford entered the Royal Navy in Jan. 1882, and was a sub-lieutenant in the "R. tiler," China, Nov. 1890, and navigator of the "Pescadore" on the same station, Feb. 1892, to April, 1895, being promoted to lieutenant in April, 1892. From Oct. 1895, to Dec. 1898, he was navigator of the "Alacrity," the yacht of the Commander-in-Chief on the China Station, and after that of the "Royal Sovereign," in the Mediterranean, April, 1899, to Aug. 1902. He was navigator of the "Leviathan," Sept. 1902, and of the "Gloria" (flag-ship of Sir Cyprian Bridge and of Sir Gerard Noel) on the China Station, Jan. 1903, to Oct. 1905, and was advanced to commander in 1903, and to captain in 1909. After other posts he was appointed to the battleship "Goliath" in May, 1913, and had charge of a group of Third Fleet ships. Captain Shelford, who was 45 years of age, was the second son of the late Hon. Thomas Shelford, C.M.G., of Singapore, and partner in Messrs. Paterson and Simons. His brother, Mr. W. H. Shelford, also sat on the Legislative Council in Singapore and is at present a director of Messrs. Paterson, Simons and Co., Ltd.

"We, the undersigned German members of the Shanghai Rowing Club have learned with regret that a movement is on foot amongst the members of the S.R.C. to exclude the German members of the S.R.C. from the use of the club premises until further notice. THE YELLOW DRAGON.

The June copy of the Yellow Dragon is an interesting number as has been issued by the Queen's College scholars for a long time past, and contains no fewer than ten articles of a varied and wide interest—from "Our Picnic" to "The Battle of the Falkland Islands." Incidentally it also has an example of the output of a scholar after a course calculated to turn him out a complete letter writer. The result to quote the article is "saddening and discouraging" and that, after the pupil had been taught to write a letter from applying for an appointment to complaining to the Police of his neighbours. A tall fishing story, an admirable article by Kong Yuk-long, and an account of Queen's College pupils' successes in the Olympic Games, all provide interesting reading both for the scholars and those who take an outside interest in the affairs of the institution.

HARBOUR OFFENCES.

Before Commander O. W. Beckwith R. N., at the Marine Court this morning, P. O. Chung Yam charged two boatmen with unlawfully allowing rubbish to be thrown overboard from their junks into the harbour, on the 24th and 25th insts, respectively. The first defendant was fined $30, while the other was sentenced to one month's hard labour, in default of a fine of $50.

P. O. Wills charged six boat-people with unlawfully moving about the harbour at 3 a.m. on the 28th inst., without permission of the officer in charge of the Examination Service. Defendants were fined $10 each.

LOG BOOK.

A New Fog Signal. A new fog-signal is being introduced to the shipping community by the International Marine Signalling Co. which consists of a syren giving out blasts at fixed intervals, working on the same principle as the characteristic flashing buoy or lighthouse. The syren is sounded by means of a small cylinder of acetylene gas and electric battery at predetermined intervals, which could be varied to give a blast every second or longer, and the intervals between the blasts can also be varied.

China Ports Busy.

In spite of the state of war that prevailed during the last five months of 1914, the total number and tonnage of vessels entered and cleared at all ports of China is the greatest that has yet been recorded, the number being 190,738 ships of 83,334,830 tons exceeding the returns for 1913, the next greatest year, by 28,911 ships and 2,991,437 tons. Of the total 40.3 per cent. was British, 24.8 per cent. Japanese, 19.3 per cent. Chinese, exclusive of junks, 3.4 per cent. German, 1.9 per cent. Russian and 1 per cent. American.

Penang Harbour Board.

The report of the Penang Harbour Board for the half year ended December 31, 1914, shows a credit balance of $23,229. But after paying the interest due to Government, amounting to $50,055, a debit balance of $26,826 is shown, and this sum, after deducting the balance of $18,828 brought forward from last year, leaves a debit balance of $7,997, excess of expenditure over revenue. The total expenditure on new works from July, 1913, to December, 1914 was $110,620. The tonnage of vessels using Swettenham Pier during the half year was 203,991, as compared with 240,243 during the corresponding period in 1913. The Board now has ninety-eight wooden and five steel lighters with a tonnage capacity of 6,890 tons. During the half-year thirty-nine vessels were docked for painting and repairs, the tonnage being 37,017 tons as compared with thirty-one vessels and a tonnage of 29,925 for the previous half-year.

U. S. Marine Journal's Views on Germany. The Hongkong public will doubtless be interested to read an opinion expressed by the Marine Journal of New York, one of the oldest shipping papers in the United States. A copy has been received by the Imperial Merchant Service Guild, and views of the influential shipping people of the United States are reflected in the following paragraph:—"We have been asked by a number of earnest friends what we would do in the present crisis if we controlled the Government of the United States. This for the reason perhaps that we are so looking in knowledge of international conditions, nevertheless, we have an opinion and here it is: We would begin by giving the German and Austro-Hungarian Ambassadors their passports. We would notify the allies, Great Britain, France and Russia, that we would join them and all neutral peace-loving nations in exterminating those who were responsible for the murder of the 1,154 (more or less) men, women and children on board the Lusitania, and scorch their entire armament of army and navy, provided that the allies and neutral nations, including the United States, would agree thereafter to allow to rust out or destroy their armaments on land or sea, which, if agreed to, would ensure everlasting peace. While the foregoing opinion will doubtless be declared Utopian, it would certainly prevent such atrocities as have occurred recently, and the possibility for murder, rapine, and destruction of everything of use to humanity, by belligerent nations would be forever checked, thereby enabling human beings of all nations to enjoy, that which Nature has so lavishly bestowed upon them."

HONGKONG, TUESDAY, JUNE 29, 1915.

SANITARY BOARD.

Water Carriage System Again.

The usual meeting of the Sanitary Board was held this afternoon, Mr. G. N. Orme presiding. There were also present the Hon. Mr. E. A. Hewett, Mr. Ng Hon Tsz, Mr. P. W. Goldring, Mr. Chan Kai Ming, Dr. Fitzwilliams, Col. Gordon Hall, Dr. W. Pearce, M.O.H., and Mr. W. Bowen-Rowlands secretary.

Inspector Elliott wrote for permission to resign his post as Sanitary Inspector from July 1 on account of ill health. The President intimated that Inspector Elliott was lent by the Military authorities from July 1 1914 on the condition that he might be withdrawn if his services were required, and Col. Gordon Hall had given his opinion that he should be sent home. As this would have the result of placing a trained man's services at the disposal of the hard worked R.A.M.C. at home, the President recommended that the resignation be accepted and he would recommend that a successor be found as quickly as possible.

The resignation was accepted. A minute from the M.O.H. relative to the water carriage system was to be laid on the table, a copy to be forwarded for the information of the Government.

The President pointed out that, owing to delay, some members had not seen the papers.

Dr. Fitzwilliams protested against the paper being laid on the table at this meeting. They ought to have a proper opportunity of discussing the present antiquated system which they had at present. By laying it upon the table to-day it would have the effect of putting the matter back a further step.

Mr. Goldring endorsed what the previous speaker had said, and the matter was allowed to stand over for a week.

COMPULSORY TRAINING.

The New Singapore Bill

We print below extracts from the Reserve Force and Civil Guard Bill which was as stated in our special wire of that date submitted to the Singapore Legislative Council for first reading on June 25.

It is hereby enacted by the Governor of the Straits Settlements with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof as follows:—

1. This ordinance may be cited as "The Reserve Force and Civil Guard Ordinance 1915."

Registration.

2.—(1) Every male British subject of pure European descent between the ages of eighteen and fifty-five years resident in the Colony at the date of the commencement of this ordinance shall within one week thereafter, and every such person arriving in the Colony after the commencement of this ordinance shall within two months after arrival, make a return signed by him to the Chief Police Officer of the Settlement in which he is residing, of his name, place of birth, age, residence and occupation, military service, if any, and date of arrival in the Colony, if such arrival was after the commencement of this ordinance, according to the form in Schedule A.

(2) Any person who fails to comply with the requirements of this section shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty-five dollars for every day during which the default continues.

Reserve Force.

3.—(1) Subject to the provisions hereinafter mentioned every male British subject of pure European descent between the ages of eighteen and thirty-eight years in any Settlement shall be liable, whenever it is notified in the Gazette that the Governor intends to establish a Reserve Force for the Volunteer Force and to call out men to undergo military training in the Settlement, to serve as a member of such Reserve Force or to undergo such military training as may be prescribed by rules made under this ordinance.

(2) As soon as the notification appears in the Gazette and at any time thereafter while such notification is in force the Chief Police Officer shall forward to the Adjutant of the Volunteer Force in the Settlement a list containing the names of those persons who appear from the returns made under section 2 to be under the age of thirty-eight years.

(3) The Adjutant of the Volunteer Force in the Settlement shall summon before him in writing in the form in Schedule B such number of persons as may from time to time be fixed by the Governor whose names are on such list.

(4) Any person summoned shall be exempt from the liability imposed by sub-section (1) who (a) is a member of His Majesty's Army or Navy or of the Volunteer or Police Force of the Colony; (b) by reason of sickness or other infirmity appears to be incapable of performing the duties of a member of the Reserve Force or of undergoing military training; (c) is exempted by the committee appointed under this ordinance; or (d) is exempted by the Governor.

(5) Every person summoned who is not exempt under sub-section (4) shall in the presence of the Adjutant elect to serve as a member of such Reserve Force or to undergo the prescribed military training.

(6) Every person summoned who elects to serve as a member of such Reserve Force shall take the oath and make the declaration set forth in Schedule O to be administered by the Adjutant of the Volunteer Force or any officer who has taken such oath or made such declaration.

Civil Guard.

5. (1) Every male British subject of pure European descent between the ages of thirty-eight and fifty-five years in any Settlement shall be liable, whenever it is notified in the Gazette that the Governor intends to establish a Civil Guard in that Settlement, to serve as a member of such Civil Guard.

(2) As soon as the notification appears in the Gazette and at any time thereafter while such notification is in force, the Inspector General in the Settlement of Singapore, and the Chief Police Officer in any other Settlement, shall summon before him in writing in the form in Schedule B such number of persons as may from time to time be fixed by the Governor who are liable to serve as members of the Civil Guard in such Settlement.

(3) Any person summoned shall be exempt from such service who (a) is a member of His Majesty's Army or Navy or of the Volunteer or Police Forces; (b) by reason of sickness or other infirmity appears to be incapable of performing the duties of a member of a Civil Guard; (c) is exempted by the committee appointed under this ordinance; or (d) is exempted by the Governor.

(4) Every person summoned who is not exempt under sub-section (3) shall take the oath or make the declaration set forth in the Schedule O to be administered by the Inspector-General of Police or Chief Police Officer.

6. Every member of the Civil Guard shall have the same powers for the preservation of the peace, the prevention of offences, the apprehension of offenders and for all other purposes, and shall enjoy the same privileges, protection, and immunities as the members of the Police Force enrolled under the Police Force Ordinance 1872, except as to pay, pension or other reward.

7. The Civil Guard in the Settlement of Singapore shall be under the control of the Inspector-General of Police and such other officers as the Governor may appoint in their behalf, and the Civil Guards in the other Settlements shall be under the control of the Chief Police Officer of those Settlements respectively and such other officers as the Governor may appoint.

8. The Inspector General of Police in the Settlement of Singapore and the Chief Police Officers in the other Settlements may from time to time appoint suitable persons to be instructors of the Civil Guard, who shall give instructions in musketry and in squad drill to the members of the Civil Guard.

9. Such arms, ammunition, appointments and clothing as the Governor directs shall be supplied by the Government for the use of each member of the Civil Guard.

11. (1) The Governor may make regulations (a) prescribing the duties to be performed by the committee appointed under this ordinance; (b) with respect to the training, discipline, duties and discharge of members of the Reserve Force and Civil Guard and of those persons who have been elected to undergo the prescribed military training; (c) with respect to the provision of arms, ammunition, appointments and clothing of such members and persons; (d) generally for carrying out this ordinance into effect.

THE EXTRADITION CASE.

The hearing of the extradition case in which Hung Shiu Lun is applied for by the Chinese authorities was continued this afternoon, by Mr. J. R. Wood, at the Police Court.

Mr. F. C. Jenkin, on behalf of Mr. Sharp K. C., instructed by Mr. P. M. Hodgson, (Crown Solicitor), made the application, and Mr. G. K. Hall Bratton, opposed it.

Mr. Sayer, Private Secretary to His Excellency the Governor, gave evidence as to procedure and the Canton Government Gazette. The case was again adjourned.

section 5 (2) and who without reasonable excuse omits to appear at the place specified in the summons, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty-five dollars.

13. Any person summoned, who is not exempt under section 3 (4) or section 5 (3), and who refuses to take the oath or make the declaration as a member of such Reserve Force or Civil Guard, shall be liable to imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to two months or to a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, or to both such imprisonment and fine.

14. (1) Any member of a Reserve Force or Civil Guard called upon to serve, who without reasonable excuse neglects or refuses to serve or to obey any lawful orders, regulations or directions, shall be liable to imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to two months or to a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, or to both such imprisonment and fine.

(2) Any person who, having elected to undergo military training, neglects or refuses without reasonable excuse to obey any lawful orders, regulations or directions, shall be liable to the punishment prescribed in sub-section (1).

15. (1) All arms, ammunition, appointments and clothing supplied at the public expense and issued to any member of a Reserve Force or Civil Guard or to anyone undergoing military training shall be and remain the property of the Government, and shall be produced, exhibited and delivered to any person authorised by the Governor to inspect or receive the same.

Objects and Reasons.

1. This bill empowers the Governor to establish a Reserve Force for the Volunteer Force, to call out men to undergo military training and to establish a Civil Guard.

2. The men who are liable to serve in the Reserve Force or to undergo military training are British subjects of pure European descent between the ages of 18 and 38 years. Such men can elect to serve in the Reserve Force or to undergo military training without joining the Reserve Force.

3. The men who are liable to serve in the Civil Guard are British subjects of pure European descent between the ages of 38 and 55 years.

4. To ensure that all British subjects referred to above do not escape the liability imposed by this bill it is provided that all such British subjects shall make a return to the Chief Police Officer of the Settlement in which they are residing of the particulars set out in clause 2.

This bill repeals Part I of the Preservation of the Peace Ordinance 1872 (No. VI), which empowers the Governor to cause every able-bodied person within a Settlement, where any breach of the peace is apprehended, to be sworn in as a special constable.

6. Recent events have shown that a bill such as this is urgently needed, so that when the occasion does arise for all able-bodied men to bear arms, they will know how to use them.

COMPANY MEETING.

Messrs. Moutrie and Co., Ltd.

The sixteenth annual general meeting of shareholders in Messrs. S. Moutrie and Co., Ltd., was held at the offices of the Company, Nanking Road, Shanghai, on June 21. Mr. E. O. Pearce presided, and the other directors present were Mr. John H. Hinton (Acting Secretary and managing director), Mr. J. H. Teesdale and Mr. M. W. J. Lesman. The attendance represented 1,503 shares.

The notice convening the meeting and the auditors' report having been read, the Chairman said:—

Gentlemen, the report and accounts having been in your hands for some days, with your permission we will take them as read.

In asking you to adopt them, I think it hardly necessary for me to say that the European war has very largely interfered with our trade; it is principally on account of this reason that your Board are not able to lay such a satisfactory report before you as last year.

It is therefore no wish of mine to enlarge on what must be apparent to you all. The low exchange which has ruled throughout the year has also affected us in more ways than one. Our staff, as you know, are paid in sterling; consequently our running expenses have been higher, besides which, the imported cost of all sterling goods has greatly increased. The net profit for the year, including $12,873.13 brought forward from last year's account, amount to $28,368.02, which, as shown in the Report, the Directors recommend be dealt with as follows:—

Dividend 5 per cent. 15,420.00
Commission 770.00
To carry forward ... 12,178.02

Tls. 28,368.02

This appropriation allows of a good balance to be carried forward, and I hope will meet your approval.

Referring to your Assets, it is satisfactory to see that you have cash $36,575.33 in hand, a very healthy state of affairs. Sundry Credits last year amounted to $65,369.28; this year $72,928.53, an increase of roughly $7,000, explained by the arrival of certain stocks just as our year was closing. Mortgage on factory remains the same, also Capital Account, and Reserve. With reference to bad and doubtful debts, always a difficult problem in our business, you will notice that we have written off this year $6,984.23, and carry forward as a bad debt reserve $13,571.14. While it is to be hoped that the loss will not ultimately prove so big, our auditors consider it advisable to place this sum to reserve. The Branches that this reserve more particularly applies to is Singapore and Kuala Lumpur, which have felt the effects of the war very severely. Stocks show a decrease of $7,192.09 as against last year, which is satisfactory. Depreciation has received our careful attention and a considerable sum has been written off your different stocks, and the usual percentage off buildings. Your Board welcomed the return of Mr. J. H. Hinton, the managing director. Mr. Fred J. Hinton is now at home on a well-earned holiday. I now propose the adoption of the report and accounts, but before placing the resolution before the meeting, will do my best to answer any question.

There were no questions, and the Chairman proposed the adoption of the report and accounts. This was seconded by Mr. Teesdale, and carried.

Mr. J. H. Hinton proposed, and Mr. Mack seconded, that Mr. J. H. Teesdale be re-elected a director of the Company. Carried.

Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews were re-elected auditors at a fee of Tls. 350.

MINISTER OF MUNITIONS.

Mr. Lloyd George's Great Task.

To the confusion of one set of prophets and the triumph of another, Mr. Lloyd George has gone to the War Office—the indispensable man in the inevitable place, as yesterday's comments seem to agree says the Daily News of May 27. The administrative change involved is notable, but it has an interesting precedent in the reorganisation effected also in the middle of a war—in the early fifties, when four months after the outbreak of hostilities in the Crimea the post of Secretary-of-War was merged in the higher office of the Secretary of State for War, then for the first time relieved of the tail of his title "and the Colonies" and the duties involved therein. In the same year, under the exigencies of the war, the Board of Ordnance, with four centuries of work behind it, was brought to a summary end. Now after sixty years, the pendulum swings back, and something like the old Ordnance Board is re-established, though with the altogether higher dignities belonging to a separate Ministry of Munitions.

Mr. Lloyd George has before him what is in many respects the most important and the most clearly-defined task of any member of the Cabinet. His business is to organise and stimulate the production of shells and explosives and the other material of war falling technically under the head of munitions. On the last Chancellor of the Exchequer's fitness for the post agreement is universal, and it is worth recalling that proof of his business capacity was given even more conspicuously at the Board of Trade than at the Treasury.

The work of a Minister of Munitions assuming office in the tenth month of the war is to some extent lightened, to some extent complicated, by the progress that has been made in improvising emergency machinery as the needs of the Army increased. The situation as Mr. Lloyd George finds it to-day may be briefly indicated. At normal times the organisation of the supply of munitions is in the hands of the Army Council, and more immediately of two of its military members, the Quartermaster-General and the Master-General of the Ordnance, offices held at present by Sir John Cowans and Sir Stanley von Donop respectively. Behind them, but without executive powers, stands the Committee of Imperial Defence.

The Call for Shells.

No peace-time organisation could be equal to the strain imposed by the demands of the present war—vividly indicated if only approximately defined, by Mr. Lloyd George's assertion that as many shells were fired off at Neuve Chapelle as were used in the whole Boer War—and the ordinary machinery of the Army Council has been supplemented and reinforced at every point, both by the appointment of organising committees and by new powers conferred by special legislation with a view to speeding up the output of munitions.

An chairman of one of these newly-constituted bodies, the Munitions of War Committee, Mr. Lloyd George is already intimate with the work to which he is now to give undivided attention. At the same time there exists a departmental War Office Armaments Output Committee under Lord Kitchener. General Von Donop, as Master-General of the Ordnance, naturally has a seat on both committees, and so has Mr. George Booth, the "business man" appointed early in the war to an important though undefined position at the War Office. Mr. Booth, in his turn, has a small committee to assist him in the provision of additional labour for munitions of war.

Undoubtedly the most urgent work before the Minister of Munitions will be the organisation of labour material, and factories for the production of war material. In his despatch published in the middle of April Sir John French declared that "an almost unlimited supply of ammunition is necessary, and a most liberal discretionary power as to its use must be given to the artillery commanders," and though Lord Kitchener's reports as to production have been encouraging it is clear that the highest output of which the mobilised labour of the country is capable will not exceed the demand by a single shell.

Mobilising Labour.

The supremely urgent problem is the organisation of labour, and it is doubtless to this task that Mr. Lloyd George's genius will be first and most closely applied. What has been achieved already is very notable. It was officially stated last week that two million men are engaged in the production of various munitions of war, a figure that is the more striking in view of the volume of the female labour increasingly drawn on in recent months. Between September and March the output rose in the proportion of 20 to 388. Nor is there any lack of labour of a kind. Offers from men and women of all stations and degrees—barristers, clerks, university graduates, and women of leisure—ready to take service in shell factories have been received in thousands, and in addition there is still available a mass of valuable labour capable of being diverted from its accustomed industry to the manufacture of munitions.

In France the whole of the industries of the country have been organised for war purposes. Here, as Mr. Lloyd George mentioned in the House of Commons, the opinion of the experts was in favour of an extension of subcontracting. That method is not meeting the demand, and direct action by the Minister of Munitions is necessary. The first essential is clearly organisation, and the task has been put in the hands of a great organiser. He has the factories, he has the men, he has the money, and, when he has confessed his failure to produce the necessary output with the resources available, it will be time enough to talk of compulsory labour for munition work. At present all the indications suggest that it is not compulsion but organisation that is needed.

GERMAN TRADE IN CHINA.

The following letter, signed Henry W. Watts, was published by the Daily Telegraph on May 22:

I have recently received a letter from a friend in a high official position in China, and the following is a verbatim extract: "Talking of British trade, we all wonder why your merchants persist in trading with German firms here, when there are plenty of substantial British firms capable of carrying on the business; also why British insurance companies still retain their German agents. But for the lack of patriotism on the part of people at home, who possibly are naturalized Germans, the German trade here would be exterminated; as it is, their firms are flourishing like green bay trees, and British ships are shutting out British cargoes to carry German goods."

his turn, has a small committee to assist him in the provision of additional labour for munitions of war.

TYPHOON SIGNALS.

STORM-WARNINGS ISSUED FROM THE HONGKONG OBSERVATORY.

The following Typhoon signals are hoisted on the Masthead on Signal Hill, Kowloon, the Harbour Office, the Kowloon Godowns, H. M. S. Tamar, Green Island, Standard Oil Premises, Lai-chi-kok and F. O. Quarters, Lyceum.

RED SIGNALS indicate that the centre is believed to be more than 200 miles away from the Colony.

BLACK SIGNALS indicate that the centre is believed to be less than 200 miles away from the Colony.

The above signals will, as heretofore, be hoisted only when typhoons exist in such positions or are moving in such directions that information regarding them is considered to be of importance to the Colony or to shipping leaving the harbour.

URGENT SIGNALS.

In addition to the above, when it is expected that the wind may increase to full typhoon force at any moment, the following Urgent Signals will be made at the Water Police Station, and repeated at the Harbour Office:—

THREE EXPLOSIVE BOMBS AT INTERVALS OF TEN SECONDS.

A Black Cross will be hoisted at the same time, superior to the other shapes.

NIGHT SIGNALS.

The following Night Signals will be hoisted from the Flagstaff on the roof of the Water Police Station at Kowloon, the Harbour Office Flagstaff, and H.M.S. Tamar.

I. Three Lights Vertical, Green, Green, Green, indicates that a typhoon is believed to be situated more than 300 miles from the Colony.

II. Three Lights Vertical, Green, Red, Green, indicates that a typhoon is believed to be situated less than 300 miles from the Colony.

III. Three Lights Vertical, Red, Green, Red, indicates that the wind may be expected to increase to full typhoon force at any moment.

No. III Signal will be accompanied by the Explosive Bombs, as above, in the event or the information conveyed by this signal being first published by night.

The Night Signals will be substituted for the Day Signals at sunset, and will, when necessary, be altered during the night.

SUPPLEMENTARY WARNINGS.

For the benefit of Native Craft and passing Ocean Vessels, a Cone will be exhibited at each of the following stations during the time that any of the above Day Signals are hoisted in the Harbour.

Gap Rock, Aberdeen, Waglan, Sau Ki Wan, Stanley, Sai Kung, Cape Collinson, Sha Tau Kok, Tai Po.

This will indicate that there is a depression somewhere in the China Sea, and that a Storm Warning is hoisted in the Harbour.

Further details can always be given to Ocean Vessels on demand by signals from the Lighthouse. C. W. JEFFRIES, Director.

The Royal Dutch Company has declared a final dividend of 34 per cent., making, with the interim dividend, 49 per cent. for 1914. For the preceding year the dividend was 48 per cent. The meetings have been held of the Batavia Plantation Investments, Ltd., and the Shanghai Electric Construction Company, Ltd. Owing to the Whitehouse holidays business in the produce markets has been very limited. The Tea market remains virtually closed. Coffee has met with little demand, and prices show some decline. The sugar market maintains a steady tone, with a fair business passing. Peppers are quiet, but prices are steady. Rice quiet and practically unchanged. Manila Hemp inactive, and prices show an easier tendency. Plantation Rubber is quiet and rather easier. Standard No. 1 Crepe being quoted 2s. 4 1/2 per lb., Fine Hard Para is 2s. 7 1/2 per lb. Straits Tin is £161 15s. to £162 5s. for cash, and £161 10s. to £162 for three months.

Trade Conditions in Eastern Mongolia.
The American Consul-General P. S. Heintzleman, of Mukden, states that Gen. Chang Hai-luan, the military governor-general of Mukden, is, under instructions from Peking, making arrangements for the opening to international trade and residence of Taonanfu, which is situated on the border between Western Manchuria and Eastern Mongolia. It will be recalled that Taonanfu is one of the seven marts in Inner Mongolia, northern Chihli, and Eastern Shengking that China declared last year would be opened "by herself" to foreigners. In view of this fact the Consul-General appends a report on the trade and industries of Taonanfu and the region of which that town is the chief producing and distributing centre. Taonanfu is destined to become in time a place of considerable importance as a railway centre. It is proposed to join Taishan on the Chinese Eastern Railway, with Taonanfu. Also, the Japanese have been granted permission to construct two lines east from Taonanfu—one to Kaiyuan or Szapingkai, north of Mukden, and another to Haimin, west of Mukden. From Taonanfu a fourth line is to extend southward to Cheoyangta and Jehol, thus indicating a direct approach to Peking from the north-east. The Taishan-Taonanfu-Chaoanfu alignment is practically identical with the Chinokow-Aigun railway grant made to American interests in 1909. It would seem certain that these railways, apart from the important political and strategic considerations involved, would be commercially successful. For a long time the Chinese Government and the merchants in Manchuria have desired to have these railways constructed, believing that the normal commercial and industrial development of Eastern and Inner Mongolia depends on added railway communication, through which the great interior plains will be made accessible. The site of the proposed foreign settlement at Taonanfu has now been definitely decided. At first it was intended to fix the site south-east of the city, but after careful consideration this was found to be unsuitable owing to its inaccessibility. A tract of land lying to the south of the city has now been determined upon, although not centrally located, this tract is large and capable of extension.

SHANGHAI GERMANS.

White Star Line's War Experience.

There is no announcement yet of any prohibition of shipments to German merchants in China, and it is quite probable that the changes in the Government will cause some delay in coming to a decision says a recent issue of the Manchester Guardian. It may be as well, however, to define the position of this country in the meantime. The Government has undoubtedly a right, if it is thought to be in our highest interests, to prohibit trading with enemy subjects in any country. It does not do so in some because it is undesirable to irritate their Governments. In Shanghai the case is different. The Germans there have extra-territorial privileges—that is to say, the ground which each man treads on is for the moment a part of the Fatherland, for his purposes. He trades with the British and sends part of his gains to help his countrymen to defeat us in war. The British are naturally irritated at this, and wish to deprive him of the power of remitting money. The German in America, however, can do just the same, and to some extent he is actually doing it. So long as it is done privately nobody raises the question whether it is a breach of neutrality. But it is just the same to us whether the money comes from a Shanghai or a New York German. One of our correspondents thinks the Germans in China are in the position that the German owners of British patents were in when the war broke out. Surely this is a delusion. We appropriated those patents for the time being because we required the products made by them and could no longer buy from its patentees. In Shanghai, however, we have no rights whatever over the Germans, and the only thing we can do is to refuse to have dealings with them. In Hong Kong, which, of course, is British territory, we have taken this line, and the German merchants have been driven into liquidation. It seems to be assumed that similar action in Shanghai will have similar results, and, if so, we are within our rights in taking it if we think fit. It is all a question of expediency, using that word with a due regard to all that is involved. Of course, if the Germans are driven into liquidation the use of their "chops" will present no difficulty, for the liquidators will realize them.

The following has been sent to the Editor of the Manchester Guardian.

Sir, Your correspondent "Common Sense" does me a great injustice in suggesting that my letter contained anything which, in spirit or in practice, would be other than straightforward. I must assume that all the licences which are granted by the Supervisor of Patents and Trade Marks to British manufacturers to continue making and marketing chemicals, drugs, and other commodities covered by German-owned patents and trade marks constitute in the mind of your correspondent an abandonment of all honesty. I believe such licences are granted for the term of the war, in the opinion of the Supervisor, it is in the interest of the country that the manufacture should continue. If your correspondent thinks it wrong, then I hold an opinion directly opposite to his.

It has not been hinted at that the owner should be deprived of his property. If the "chop" continues to be used its value is thereby maintained, and the country at the same time is benefited by the continuance of the manufacture. After the war is over the rights of the mark will, of course, be restored to the owner, its value not having been diminished. If on the other hand, the mark must be "interned," I think its restoration will call forth few thanks, for the guarding suggested by "Common Sense" will have caused it to become valueless both to English manufacturers and merchants and German importers. It is well known that to keep a trade mark out of the market causes its value to depreciate rapidly, and in a shorter time than many people realize to become valueless. If the enemy owner is to be deprived of the value of his mark then the policy of your correspondent is the correct one to pursue. Merchants are frequently willing to make considerable sacrifice to keep their chops before the buyers abroad.

I am interested in the China trade, but have no enemy clients, so am fortunately not affected by the suggestion put forward by the Board of Trade, but many of my competitors, who are also my friends, are suffering heavily, and if they are to be prohibited from trading with Germans in Shanghai the licence I suggest can be granted to them without any extra loss to the enemy merchant.

I have not noticed any protests from correspondents in your columns suggesting that the total liquidation of the German firms and interests in Hong Kong by order of the Government is an abandonment of all honesty, although this course will deprive them of commercial interests which they can never hope to regain.—Yours, etc.,
